Easy & fast:
Getting started with bookingkit

Your business isn't the first to switch to bookingkit! That's why we not only understand your feelings very well, but have also perfected the process of switching to bookingkit over the years. The result is three very clear steps that take about 30 minutes in total – from a company profile to an offer to direct bookability on your website!

Start

1

Create company profile & set up Stripe integration

Start by entering all the basic company and tax information for billing. Then set up your Stripe account for payment processing.

Transfer offer & create appointments

Using an example to guide you, you can now copy or create your ticket offer, including all prices, background information, images and other details. Then you enter the availabilities and dates and you are basically ready to sell!

Finish

Add the bookingkit widget(s) to your website

Effortlessly embed the bookingkit widget into your website using a simple HTML code and you are ready to go. You can also configure multiple widgets individually and integrate them into other sub-pages.

Support? Of course!

And to make it even easier for you, we personally guide you through onboarding, give you examples, and support you every step of the way with interactive tips directly in the user interface.

Now it's time for the bonus round

To get the most out of bookingkit, we recommend two important steps right at the beginning. Again, you will receive extensive support from our onboarding team, but you can also discover and experiment on your own.

Review and reconnect sales channels

Are you already using other sales channels successfully? If so, let us know which ones and we will help you to connect them to bookingkit. Since each platform has its own specifications, it is not possible to describe a standardized process. However, with many partners, the new connection can be made directly by us.

Tip: bookingkit is the best-integrated booking solution and maintains a large number of connections to leading sales channels. Take a look around and take advantage of this reach!
